The Anchor

2003

Bonnie Bruce photo

From the Office of Principal Robert Shaps

To the Seniors,

It is with great fondness that I bid farewell to the Class of 2003. I remember clearly the warm welcome I received from you when I arrived at MERHS three years ago. It appears we have aged well together; much has changed and much has been accomplished in that short time, both in our school community and with all of us as individuals. I credit your enthusiasm, open-mindedness, creativity and willingness to work for a great deal of our progress.

Rarely has MERHS seen such a talented and diverse group of students who are high achievers in all areas of school life. On the academic front many pinnacles have been reached: a record breaking debate year, increased success for our DECA team, more AP scholars than ever before and, best of all, success on an individual level for many of you who set new academic goals and reached them. Your contributions to our athletic teams have taken us to new heights as well. From the Super Bowl to the Fleet Center to countless Cape Ann and state championships, your leadership, skill and good sportsmanship have resulted not only in wins, but in good will and admiration from fans and competing teams. The Class of 2003 is one of exceptional individual talent in so many arenas...music, theater, art to name a few. And though your class had no community service requirement for graduation, you provided a model for those who do through your countless hours of service in and out of school. All this and a keen sense of humor too!

Beyond your accomplishments, however, what stands out in my mind about your class is your generosity of spirit, your total acceptance of each other's uniqueness....the caring way you welcomed new and returning members of the class into the fold....the extent to which as individuals and in groups you gave back.. I am confident that as you go forward into an uncertain world, you will take with you these important qualities and contribute in many ways to the new communities you join. The Class of 2003 has left a lasting impression on MERHS; you have set a bar to which all other classes should aspire.

Good luck as you embark upon the next chapter in your lives!

Regards,

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;
Then took the other, just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,
And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day:
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.
I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

-Robert Frost

Dedicated to Ms. Elizabeth Wansong

When we were thinking of teachers to whom we could dedicate the yearbook to, suddenly “the light dawned on Marble Head”, and we knew there was no other choice than Ms. Wansong.

With a bright smile and a simple wave from across a hall or a classroom, memories come rushing back of “Mo Betta” candy and walking and spitting.

Ms. Wansong has not only taught students the archetypes of literature or the meanings within The Samurai's Garden but she has also taught students compassion and integrity in life. She is always offering help to those who need it or contributing to local foundations or simply inquiring on how one's day is going. Ms. Wansong takes a sincere interest in the lives of her students, not only trying to further their knowledge in the area of English but to expand their knowledge of the real world.

The Class of 2003 dedicates this yearbook to Ms. Wansong to express their appreciation for her efforts to make our high school experience one to remember. Thank you for everything!

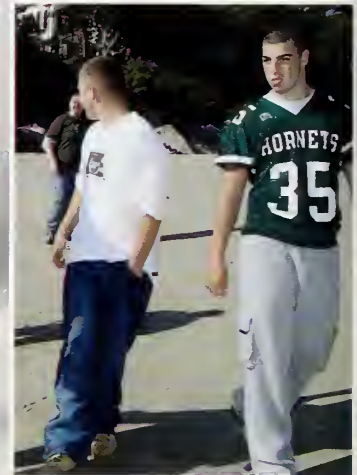

Love from,
Your “Sweet Peas”

The Class of 2003
thanks our Class Advisor,
Mr. Averill

Mr. Averill,

We cannot thank you enough for all you have done as our class advisor over the past few years. You have kept us organized, motivated, and together as a class; and for that we thank you. To many of us you have surpassed the duties of being an excellent class advisor, teacher, and mentor; you have been a friend. You are always fair, thinking of other people, and you approach every task with a positive attitude- you are an incredible role model. We admire you, Mr. Averill, and we thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

WHY WEREN'T WE AT OUR

Brendan K. was whistling at girls from his Jeep (thinking he's hot).
Ruthie was having too much fun dressing up like a fairy princess.
Lincoln was stuck on the night shift at the McDonald's drive-through.
Ellie D. was making a fashionable outfit to wear.
Nick L. was home practicing his dance steps.
Jenn M. ended up at Hamilton-Wenham's reunion instead.
Mike K. was gelling his hair.
Ali E. was swimming in a bowl of fiber after she finally emerged from her incubator.
PJ couldn't come because AC crashed his car.
Stuart was attending to his "secret garden" down in his basement.
Melissa was sleeping at Dan's house.
Tom couldn't come because Kelsey's curfew was at 9:00, plus he was going to a sausage fest anyways.
Kelley J. couldn't find a ride.
Dave P. was "occupied" with his X-Box.
Annemarie's tailor sewed her button on crooked.
Emily Br. was eating dinner at her dad's.
Wes was "sick."
Sam B. couldn't come because there was a special on the History Channel.
Chris was getting beverages for the party he was throwing after the reunion.
Caroline C. heard that Dave Matthews would be within 2000 miles of her house.
Jenn D. was in Lynn, just chillin'.
Kelley B. couldn't make it because after four long years of dealing with her, Mr. Averill gave her candy that actually was euthanasia.
Matt Knight was at the New Kids On The Block reunion, instead.
Maida couldn't make it because someone actually said they would stay home and sing "Rent" songs with her.
Dan L. couldn't decide what to wear.
Mary L. was visiting Northwestern.
Alison S. got all tangled up in her duct tape.
Matthias cut up the invitation and used it to defeat Lexington.
Geoff...well, Matthias wasn't going...
Emily Be. was taking a shower.
Ian B. had to go to Boy Scouts.
Sammy S. couldn't make it because Digby wouldn't let him go.
Ali B. was at dance class, then meeting some people at Nick's.
Matt T. found out that nobody actually thought his jokes were funny.
Ashley E. was nursing Jesse back to health.
Andrew B. figured he would be late, so decided not to go.
Emily A. was in the Air Force.

10th YEAR REUNION?!?!?

May Grose was at the barn...or was it New Hampshire this weekend?

Amanda M. didn't really care.

Ion didn't hear about it.

Bethany B. couldn't come because Justin Symonds wasn't there to park her car.

Lindsay B. was hanging with her Gloucester friends. Or was it Rockport?

Megan S. heard they were serving pork chops.

Anna went to every other reunion, except ours.

Bryant thought the idea of the reunion was "stupid."

Jeff S. couldn't make it because after college he and Natalie randomly bumped into each other, got married, drove off into the sunset, and were never heard from again.

Jenna was on a date with some cute guy she crashed into on the highway.

Stephen D. came.

Kendra E. was out partying, compensating for all the weekends she spent debating in high school.

Mike O. was at the restaurant working double-shift.

Johnny R. was "working his magic" on the ladies.

Betsy was sailing the seven seas in the Navy.

Ben D. was told he would have to keep his shirt on, so he figured what's the point?

John Paul was booked on Saturday nights at the Comedy Club in Boston.

Megan B. was in Maine with her boyfriend.

Danny D. was trying to start fights somewhere.

Carina B. was still cleaning up the mess created by her party.

Ross was driving around town in his convertible.

Trevor was with Ross.

Isla was hanging out with Rick.

Nick G.'s minivan broke down.

Andrew H. was too embarrassed to come because his car still smelled like fish.

Justin Mason was with Hunter.

Karl's football curfew was 9:00, plus the Volvo broke down anyway.

Nathan P. was getting a tattoo...or a piercing

Peter W. was in the Marines

Chrissy didn't want to come because Ryan isn't a people person

Sean was sleeping for his eighteenth hour straight.

Brian E. figured if he was voted "never to be heard from again" in the yearbook, he might as well keep it that way.

Kendra O. was too busy memorizing the newest version of Campbell's Biology book.

Matt M. joined the WWF as Hulk Hogan's illegitimate son and made millions.

Lia was breaking up gay couples looking for a boyfriend.

Great times with MG, AM, CR, LB, RA, TG, AD, JM -beach days/all-nighters in p-town, w/ MG, AM, CR, -softball w/ LB "Old man /young man, we're doing spring golf league" field hockey goalie lessons w/ KC-popcorn w/ MG, AM, at MG's house-study halls w/ MD (j.s. and j) movies w/ rachie-the nites in lynn -thanks to my family I have loved you all the whole way, dad for being my best friend mom -always telling me I can do better, n believing it, meema -for eating the O's and leavin the good stuff for me-good luck in life w/ your person my love jay, I love you babe 4 everything you've done 4 me you've made me a better person, your my snookerdoodle may God grant you the serenity to accept the things you cannot change, the courage to change the things you can, and the wisdom to know the difference.

"Who threw away so many nights on something they believed? After dreaming for so long about how much we could achieve? Don't stop believing and run off now. Who threw their efforts into something meaningful? And kept persevering through nights not useless. We felt it. We grew from it. We kept going. We won't stop believing no matter how ideas or people change. We didn't throw away anything but disapproval. Each night momentous. Each moment better than the last. And we'll learn from those nights we never threw away." Its finally here... time to leave our sheltered lives. Never forget football w KO, MO, BC, VO, JC, MW, CO, DD, BD, MA, MB, JR, JS, TH, and the rest. Bball w KO,
VO, JC, BC, TH, WG. Baseball w TH, AF, WG, VO, JC, JB LB and me dominating DECA. Fun in Beverly w BC, KO, VO, AF, WG, TH. Just drivin around w
KO BC Times w RICO, MG, ML, KO, KC. Late nite trips to Nicks, leaving BC w AD and taking his car, and of course all those summer nites to Stellas in the A-Train. KO > sand dollar? Winning football games and then going to JRs will never get old. After prom w TH dreading the next days game then trying to get breakfast w KO, MO, BC. Psych w MM, MO and somehow I get in trouble. One last thought, if we have to leave high school, lets leave something that other ppl have to live up to.

what can i say, i've have had the happiest and sadest times in highschool. Throughout the years i've gained and lost friendships. Starting with meghan... there's not much to say really than i love u, and always will, u've shown me things no one else ever will. Next are the guys, to all my friends who have made the crazy nights and wild days unbelievable. Remembering not too much, but what i remembered i've loved. To JP/SG September sessions/blue crush, MO/NL lifes good in the sun by the pool, DL to all the late school nights, BK PJ to whats lacking, SP to all the senceless late nights and hosting of sausage fests, NG to all the unsuccessful sleep overs. Growing up's hard, but u guys made it easy. Lastly i want to thank my parents and grandparents for always being there.

I tried fitting my memories into a story but it ended too soon. AB we finally made it to the beach on time. CC&SG dont throw bottles at random guys. SPyou never visited my crazy world. JP&BKyou crack me up! Another boring night in the bubble. AM maybe I met the goal! Confidential Counseling LO: Saturday morning songs KJ. Pocahontis-Socajahoya-Ishcomp! Getting lost with KB we always find our way. Pea shooters & cds. Madonna&Cher always. RB-what to say? The "arrrrr" set sail 2002(oops). Little&medium one. Coyote Ugly! & Ian, he runs so fast. Oh ya-swinging! Everyone else you know who you are-I love you all and will never forget! Mom&Dad thanks for everything. you've always been there for me and I couldn't have done it without you! Catherine, I really did mean to visit you.

See you on Misery! ~The End

m+d. thnx for always being there for me. e.m.p: thnx 4putting up w/ me. love you guys. chobes. etc: you are my sanity. mox. Well, I haven't exactly had a beautiful and lovely and exuberant four years within the walls of this piece of 1960s architecture. However, here are a few memories I'd like to reminisce for years to come:

- Moulin Rouge
- 7 hoes for 7 bros
- cool kids
- MV
- Voyageur
- VISTA
- 20s Flapper chicks galore...

Thank you, mom, dad, ccd, deede. I love you. Thank you, Lord, for keeping me alive and helping me through these years.

Go, my friends, into this world of darkness.
May you find the light.

Mom, Dad, Sue- u never stopped caring about me my whole life, & I luv u guys. Thank u for 17 years of constant support. TTABB's- good god boys, we've had some good times, nuthin better than Sunday football games & "slim's" car washes. KB- there is no one else like u. EB- u really are like a "big sis" to me. LL- "Lttabbs" just didn't ring. Bojam- barely evaded arrest & still going strong. Meg- Monday nite football aint the same w/o ur crappy tv & big Tim's yelling. Bros- although sitting at masco isn't my idea of a Friday nite, ya'll made it a lil more fun. Ladies- its gonna be tufl w/ o u to wink at or give "good games" to. still not sure where "blonde squad" came from b/c half of u are brunettes. ur wild, crazy, and most of all, great friends.

Nicholas Alexander Glass

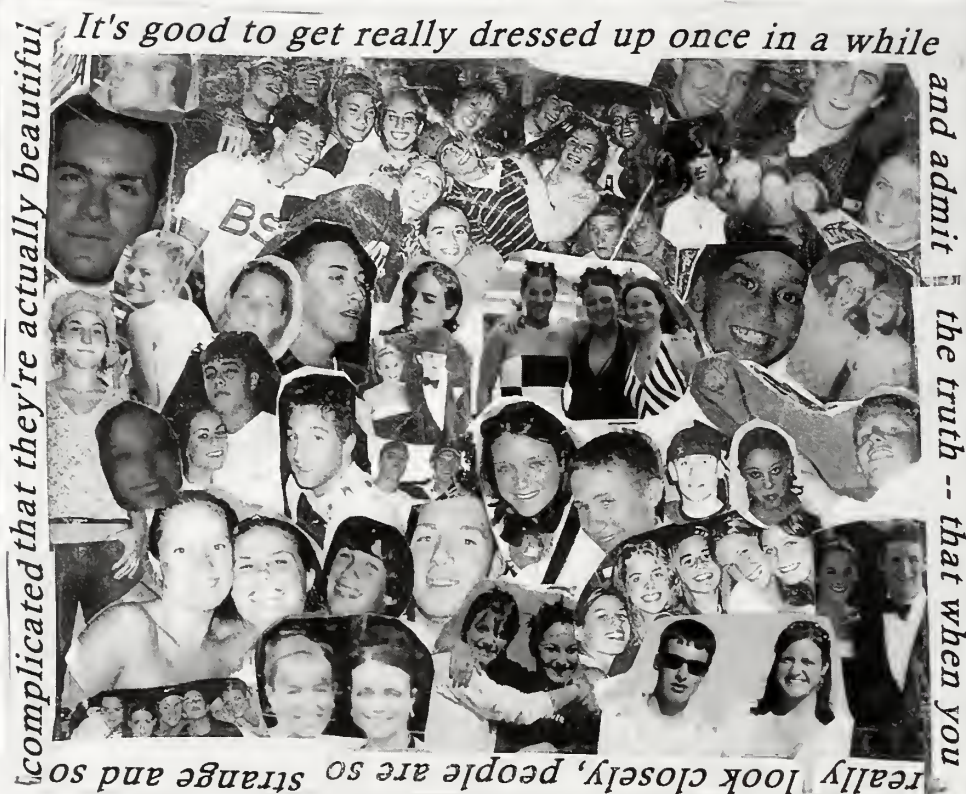

Its all over! so many experiences: masco, daves house, ht, blove, socca (ohword!), sp's basement, prom 1n2, all those awaydays, drivin, smkn-n-jkn, on the roof, horsey lessons, xoo, phillish&311y mas conciertos, summer fun, fun every season, and all the other memories that are temporarily forgotten and all the ones we will know but wont make it to this book. M&D- i love you guys, thanks for the support youve always given me. Live each day to the fullest. Live with joy. Be healthy. Carry yourself proudly. Love. Give everything a chance. Show emotion. Live boldly. Keep friends close. Stay healthy. Make choices based upon what you believe. Do random acts of kindness. Live your life artistically and originally. Always move forward and only look back upon the things that make you smile. Think optimistically. Be honest. Live blissfully. Keep in touch. And stay beautiful. What would I do without my Thump Thump? Our pyramid makes me smile. I love you guys with my whole heart. Megs and Paige-you help me believe anything is possible, and thanks for putting up with me. The best is yet to come. Mom and Dad-I can't tell you how much I love you. Thank you for always believing in me. You are the reason I am alive.

Good morning. Here we are again. Welcome to MBTSEJSHS, starring D-block study with a great supporting cast. This is a world of teachers' quotes, our ill-fated chess club, DivX, Kart, LQ UT/GT3A, soccer from the sidelines, and the magical glow-in-the-dark bouncing ball. Respect the Honda Civics of Physics and Go Hornets Baseball. You'll never figure out where that extra day goes. Even if you have weasels on your face, relax. Chill. Enter the House of Bake. Nobody knows what comes next, so you may as well have fun while you know you can. Be yourself: everyone else is taken. Thanks to just about everyone in this yearbook, and a few who aren't (you know who you are). And one last thing: Where does the white go when the snow melts? Love, Gumpy.

Music was my refuge.
I could crawl into the space between the notes
And curl my back to loneliness.
--Maya Angelou

As I tried to find a quote that represented these last few years that we have spent together I realized that it is not possible to find just one. I can't believe that we are finally graduating. It seems like it was yesterday that we were sitting in the music room paired up in our "crew." I am sad to say good-bye but I am ready to move on. I think I could best sum my thoughts up with this quote that is on the cover of my Journal. "Dance as though no one is watching you Love as though you have never been hurt before Sing as though no one can hear you Live as though heaven is on earth." -Unknown well, how to start, or rather how to end. these past few years have gone really fast. ill start with the cheesey crap. thanks to everyone whos been there, you know who you are. well that about does it for the cheesey crap. now for some nonsensical memories. "im just explaining you what does this mean." "when my brothers and i used to play cowboys and indians, i was always the railroad worker." "hes like damn, my 'b word' just hated me." good times on the soccer field. "why is the dashboard shaking?" everyone whos ever been on the highway in the taurus. bbqsaue. lyrics to "gimme three steps". boards dont hit back. there is nothing to fear, but fear itself. i know ive forgotten some stuff, but im already late for school.

We are the class of 2003

You know you grew up in a small town if...

You can name everyone you graduated with.

You can charge at all the local stores or write checks without any ID.

You went to parties at a pasture, barn, or in the middle of a dirt road.

You used to lap "Main Street."

You said the "F" word and your parents knew within the hour.

You scheduled parties around the schedule of different police officers, since you knew which ones would bust you and which ones wouldn't.

You could never buy cigarettes because all the store clerks knew how old you were (and if you were old enough they'd tell your parents anyhow).

When you did find somebody old enough and brave enough to buy cigarettes, you still had to go out into the country and drive back roads to smoke them.

It was cool to date somebody from the neighboring town.

The whole school went to the same party after graduation.

You don't give directions by street names or directions by references. Turn by Nelson's house, go to two blocks east to Anderson's and it's four houses left of the track (field).

You can't help but date a friend's ex-boyfriend/girlfriend.

The town next to you is considered "trashy" or "snooty", but is actually just like your town.

You refer to anyone with a house newer than 1980 as the "rich people."

The people in the "big city" dress funny then you pick up the trend two years later.

Anyone you want can be found at the local gas station or the town pub.

You see at least one friend a week driving a tractor through town or one of your friends drives a grain truck to school occasionally.

The gym teacher suggests you haul hay for the summer to get stronger.

Directions are given using THE stop light as a reference.

You decide to walk somewhere for exercise and five people pull over and ask you if you want a ride somewhere.

Your teachers call you by your older siblings' names.

Your teachers remember when they taught your parents.

The closest McDonald's is twenty miles away.

The closest mall is over an hour away.

It is normal to see an old man riding through town on a riding lawnmower.

You've peed in a cornfield, or cotton field.

Most people go by a nickname.

You laugh your butt off reading this because you know it is all true!

Faculty and Student Memories of the class of 2003

Since monkeys are inherently funny, I make most of my physics problems involve a monkey or two. Well, one day I had to leave my A block Physics class for a minute, and when I came back, they had drawn monkeys all over the board. And a few weeks later when I came back to school after spraining my ankle, they had made a cardboard monkey with a cast on its leg. This particular monkey can be seen flying around the hallways on the front of my cart. Monkeys rule! -Mr. Conlin

On my first day of teaching last year, Karl Osborn said to me, "It's going to be a long year with you, isn't it?" I thought that was so funny! -Deb Isensee

Karl Osborn is my first cousin. Though I did not teach him in Essex, he is very dear to me. We took a trip when Carl was in elementary school to California. I flew out with him and April. Nicole Cucuru

Ellie Dixon was a great kid. She was always there with a quick smile and a warm hello. -Maureen Bolongnese

My favorite memory of the class of 2003 is watching them perform many incredible numbers in the sixth grade talent show. I believe the boys performing the Spice Girls was my particular favorite. -Amanda Kesterson

My favorite memory of the class of 2003 was witnessing the flan-eating contest in our Spanish version of "Road Rules vs. Real World" or "Reglas de la calle vs. Mundo Real". I will never forget Maida Soehl and the determination she so valiently displayed as she devoured the entire bowl of flan, consisting of a dozen eggs and two cups of sugar. Vamos, Marta! My other favorite event was the Flaminco dancing contest won by none other than the one-armed May Grose. Baila, Silvia! -Sra. Marnoto

The soccer team finally broke their 50-game losing streak- what a night!- Alex Pirotta

And of course we all remember when they jumped into the ocean with all of their clothes on during their class picture at Singing Beach!

To the Class of 2003:

The fact that you are reading this right now means that somehow this yearbook got finished! And although it was hard work, creating this book was a truly rewarding experience.

We did our best to tailor this book to what we thought you all would like and in a way that represented our class' unique personality. And from the hundreds of candid photos you all submitted, we concluded one thing: our class definitely likes to have a good time.

For as long as we can remember, we have all dreamed of our Graduation Day. And, it will soon be upon us. But as quickly as it will come, it will go. Soon, high school will be a distant memory for all of us. However, we hope that this book will serve as an excellent reminder of some of the greatest mentors, truest friends, funniest memories, and best years of your life.

Isabel Waxman once said, "It is indeed ironic that we spend our school days yearning to graduate, and our remaining day waxing nostalgic about our school days." We hope this book leaves you nostalgic about your school days for a long, long time.

We wish you the absolute best.

Your yearbook editors,

Ali and Emily

GIRLS!

Em and Ali,
The guys have worked so hard on this yearbook and it shows! I have no idea what you'll do without you two next year. Thank you so much! -Merrill

The two of you together make an incredible team! There is nothing you can't do when you're together, and this book is proof of your creativity, hard work, and leadership. We thank you for your true dedication and friendship. You will be remembered and missed by all of us.

¡Qué triste estoy!

No va a ser lo mismo sin vosotras. Gracias por todo.

The yearbook looks great!
Nice job!
Thank
you!

Love you guys! You know that. Thanks for all your hard work.
I don't know how you did it all!
-Kelley

THANK YOU

Mrs. Marnoto

Thank you for not only a great couple of years in yearbook, but also some fabulous years in school. Your organization, creativity and passion for what you do has never ceased to amaze and inspire us. This book would be nothing without you and we truly appreciate all of the hours and dedication you have put into it. We have loved working with you as an adviser, a teacher, but more of all, as a friend. Thank you for everything and for being our mentor for these long high school years.

Kendra

No matter what you say, you were our third editor on this book. You put in just as much if not more effort into making this a success. Thank you for your time, your humor, and your optimism. We love you!!

Ellie, Jen, Kelley, Maida

To our beautiful senior girls- all of your spunk and undying efforts made this yearbook what it is. Thank you for doing what was asked, even when we were going crazy, and for doing anything you could to make our lives easier. You are an incredible group. Good luck next year in whatever your endeavors may be!

Eliza, Kara, Merrill, Hunter, and Marni

By far, you girls undertook the most difficult pages and did so with the best attitude. It's comforting to know that the yearbook will be in such good hands next year. Have an awesome senior year and thank you for all you've done!!

Ross

Thank you for offering to help out a photographically challenged group of girls. You did a wonderful job on your pages and we were always so eager to help. Thanks for your reassuring smiles. Good luck and stick with yearbook!

Thank you all for everything you did over the course of the year to make our lives easier. Every single one of you took on so much and contributed all you could to this group effort. This is a book that you should be proud of, because it is your efforts manifested in these pages. We had a wonderful year with you guys and wish you nothing but the best of luck in the future and in all that you do. Thank you!

JEFF,

Congratulations! We are all so proud of you! You have amazed us with the choices you've made to always go the extra step, take on the extra work and activities. You should be proud of all of your successes~and the ones yet to come. Always remain as kind as you are, as dedicated, as curious, and as loyal to those around you. Above all, never lose that terrific (outrageous)!!! sense of humor. You always manage to put things in perspective and find the humor in the worst situations. That is quite a talent! May your life be one long "Christmas Vacation"(without the swears)! We wish you the best in all you attempt in the future and will always be here for you. We love you man!

I am so
Proud of you!
Good Luck in Life!

much love,
Mom

It's hard to believe seventeen years have gone by
That day you arrived, you didn't even cry.
You were quiet and placid, a look of peace on your face
And we knew all you'd do, you would do with much grace.

You have always been gentle, caring and kind
With a love for adventure, and an inquisitive mind
You know who you are, we wouldn't dare debate that.
And though you've tried many on, you have chosen your hat.

Your quietness masked all your strength and conviction.
You surprised everyone, as you negated prediction.
Ballerine and pianist we all guessed you would be,
But we never imagined your ability to ski!

You have passion for things that mean something to you.
Like Guster, Dave Matthews, and Jack Johnson too!
You believe in no meat and that animals rule.
You are different from others and that's really cool!

You've accomplished a lot, and there will be so much more.
Your achievements are things they don't make awards for.
As you move on in life and do what seniors must do
You can see by this page, we are all here for you to years of sharing: skiing,

figure skating, soccer,
brownies, apple picking, crafts, travelling... so many cherished memories and many more are ahead. You are our butterfly ready to take flight~ capable, caring and radiant. We are proud of who you are!*
